Authority to Designate University of California Home Loan Program Participation for University Employees with Non-Eligible Titles

University policy defines the eligible population for participation in the University of California Home Loan Program (Program) as full-time University Appointees who hold a title in at least one of the following categories (or who will be appointed to any of the eligible titles effective no more than 180 days after loan closing):

- (1) Academic Senate members.
- (2) Academic titles equivalent to Academic Senate titles as specified in Section 105.1 and 103.3 of the By-Laws and Standing Orders of The Regents of the University of California.
- (3) Acting Assistant Professors.
- (4) Senior Management Group members.

The University President has the authority to approve participation for individuals with titles that fall outside of programmatic policy (non-eligible titles).

I hereby re-delegate to you, in your official capacity, the authority to approve Program participation for specific non-eligible titles as detailed in the University of California Home Loan Program Corporation – Program Lending and Administration Manual.

- Each request for an additional approval must be processed for a named individual.
- Approval for Program participation must be fully executed and received by the Office of Loan Programs prior to the individual beginning the loan application process.
- Any individual with a non-eligible title who reports directly to the authorizing official, and any position not specifically designated in the University of California Home Loan Program Corporation – Program Lending and Administration Manual, requires approval by the University President.

The authority delegated herein may not be redelegated.

Janet Napolitano
President
